OFFICIAL PRESS RELEASE
- Syrian refugees' Crises -

We at the Islamic Foundation of Ireland are very grateful to the Irish government and the people of Ireland for their heart felt response to the Syrian refugees' crisis.

The generosity, compassion and consideration of the Irish people is recognised and appreciated within the Muslim community in Ireland.

The Islamic Foundation of Ireland proposes to help with the refugee crisis in the following areas.

- Provision of interpretation / translation from Arabic to English.
- Provide support and advice on moral and spiritual needs of the refugees.
- Help with their integration in both the Muslim and Irish communities.
- Help establish educational and sporting activities for children.
- Provide help and counselling for women and men through the IFI women's group and specialised doctors from our community.
- Provide a platform to advise the refugees regarding their stay in Ireland.

We are advising every Muslim family in Ireland to invite a refugee family to their homes for a period of time or for a meal to help the refugees integrate with Irish life in Ireland.

To conclude we are open to any suggestions, as to how we can help in any other area.
